

ATTENTION MEDICAL STUDENTS & RESIDENTS

Win $100 and Much More as the Humanism in Medicine Essay Contest Winner!

To help us celebrate the 5th Annual Myra E. Rose, MD, Humanism in Medicine Lecture, the Department of Medicine, Residency Program would like to invite you to participate in an essay contest.

This competition is not just an opportunity to win a monetary prize but also to have your name engraved on the Lectureship Perpetual Plaque that will be displayed prominently at the Department of Medicine.

Prizes:

1st Place:

$100

Name on Perpetual Plaque

Present Essay at Lecture

1st Place Certificate

2ND Place:

$50

2nd Place Certificate

Contest Rules:

- Essay prompt: “Humanism in Medicine – What This Means to Me”
- Participants must be currently enrolled as a medical student or resident at Morehouse School of Medicine.
- One double-spaced essay may be submitted to sstepney@msm.edu with no more than 500 words in length. Please include your name and contact information (email and telephone number) in the submission email.
- Essays will be judged upon (1) clearly answering this question with an original voice and creativity, and (2) appropriate use of spelling, grammar, mechanics and the defined word count.
- Submissions must be new original work that has not been previously published (this includes articles published in any school newspaper, on other websites or blogs, or even as written literary work required for any coursework).
- The contest begins Tuesday, April 3, 2018. All submissions must be received by Thursday, May 3, 2018, 5:00pm, EST.
- The top two finalists will be notified by email by Wednesday, May 9, 2018 and requested to provide a picture (.jpg files only) and brief biography which will become part of Lecture program.
- The winner will be announced at the lecture and asked to read their winning essay.
- Prizes will be awarded at the lecture.
- Winners will be determined by panel of judges of Internal Medicine faculty and staff.
- For more information, contact Stacie Stepney at sstepney@msm.edu.